Public Has Waked Up the end of the Hughes coast-to-

At the end of the Hughes coast-to-coast trip there were many skeptics among the Republicans. When he fin-ished his second tour the verdict was that he had "caught on." Now it is declared no doubt remains that the campaign, which at first threatened to be listless, will wind up with all the fire any one might desire. hecklers have added to the interest, and instead of embarrassing Mr. Hughes have drawn him out.

The principal issues emphasized by Mr. Hughes on his tour through New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri and thus far in Nebraska have been the Adamson law, Wilson's "New Freedom"; his foreign policy, the "he-kent-us-out-of-war" issue, the tariff and war prosperity. On this trip he has campaigned in states that have a total electoral vote of 107. The early tabulations put Missouri and Kentucky in the "sure" Democratic column, Nebraska, New Jersey and Maryland in the doubtful list,

He is endeavoring to show Nebraskans that it is better and safer to maintain American rights than to let the national honor depreciate. He is counting against the strength Wilson draws from the agricultural bills by attacks on the Adamson law, and last night warned the farmers in his audience that they will "pay the freight" when rates are increased to meet the higher wages granted by the law. Mr. Hughes gave the Democratic credits law, but he also impressed on the farmers that war prosperity is not healthy. "peace" sentiment. Not once during President Wilson's visit in Indianapolis was there heard a single "he-kept-us-out of-war" cry. Instead, it is a state where Mexico is really an issue. This is largely due to ex-Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, who lives in the capital and has toured practically every city and town talking Mexico. In Illinois there is some "peace" sentiment. For the first time women are to vote there for Presidential candidates. And wherever women vote Democrats are figuring they are in the running. A big "drive" for this vote has been organized for Thursday. President Wilson comes here then to address a women's peace mass meeting at the Auditorium, and every effort is being made to make the affair the final spark needed to touch off the whole West.

There is just enough danger in the the farmers that war prosperity is not

Hughes Makes Big Impression

Republican leaders were immensely pleased with the success of the Hughes doctrine here. In spite of the satisfaction with Wilson here, the reception accorded Hughes was one of the great-spark needed to touch off the whole West.

There is just enough danger in the Illinois situation, in the opinion of observers, for the Republican managers to be on their guard. A peculiar division exists in the state. While women vote for Presidential electors, they do not vote for any of the state officers except State University trustees. Thus neither the Republican nor the Democratic state organization has to pay any attention to the women's vote. It is strictly up to the national managers. And if captured by one side or the other, their 400,000 votes are sufficient to more than turn the tide. Republicans declare that registration figures so far show the women largely enrolling with them. How nearly that is true nobody knows, and the women are not saying much about it. accorded Hughes was one of the greatest in years.

The German vote is of great importance in Missouri. The Democrats are trying to minimize the danger by the assertion that it is Republican anyhow. In the next breath, however, they will say there is a perceptible drift of German sentiment toward Wilson. Republican leaders scoff at the confident claim of the Democrats that they will carry the state for Wilson by 50,000. Indications from the Hughes trip, they say, not based alone on the enthusing astic demonstrations in Springfield and Joplin, are that Mr. Hughes now has a something more than an "outside" semething more than an "outside" chance.

"I regret to see that the Mayor does not remember the conference which took place at his office last spring, a fortnight before the preparedness parade, but I am glad that in his Tribune statement to-day he admits that my memory of it is confirmed by his friend, Alderman Curran, who happened to be in his office at that time. Right after that conference I consulted a number of friends about it and during the last few days several of them have reminded me of the fact, to the Senate and at least three out of six Representatives.
